

LOCAL ORGANIC FAIR TRADE (LOFT) HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE

MCIC.CA

(LOFT) Holiday Gift Guide

This year the COVID-19 pandemic has led to many changes – including how we shop. Since online may be the safest way to purchase gifts this year, we put together a 'nice' list of LOFT and sustainability focused options to get you started:

Find out more at MCIC.ca

Image: CUSO International

Act locally –
impact globally

(LOFT) Holiday Gift Guide

Supporting local economy is important... and since fair trade goods are usually different than those locally produced, there's a place in the market for both.

Prairie Sun Beeswax: Second and third generation family bee-farmers in Elgin, Manitoba. This company sells 100% natural beeswax candles and raw honey. Committed to sustainability, this farm uses a solar energy system.

Anne Mulaire: Ojibwe/French fashion designer Andréanne Mulaire Dandeneau born and based in Winnipeg uses fabrics knitted and milled in Canada, certified free from harmful substances. Collections include Zero-Waste and Heritage Design.

Boutique at the CMHR: The collection at the Boutique has been carefully curated for social consciousness. Local and global options include clothing, home décor, jewelry, gifts and more.

The Good Tee: Certified B-Corporation founded in 2008 in Canada. This company makes casual, organic Fairtrade tees for all genders and all ages. A positive force for change and offers 100% supply-chain transparency—from farm to finished garment.

Dconstruct: This Canadian company with a location in Winnipeg manufactures and sells jewelry from recycled resin and other architectural materials. Minimum 40% recycled content in each piece.

Looma Home: This online retail company based in the United States sells luxury organic Fairtrade cotton bedding.

Image: World Vision Canada

Find out more at MCIC.ca

Act locally – for SDG 12